

A CAR CRASH IS THE LEADING CAUSE OF DEATH FOR TEENAGERS.

52% OF THE DEATHS OF TEENAGE PASSENGERS HAPPENED IN CARS DRIVEN BY ANOTHER TEEN

Real-World Case Study: The Risk of Teen Driving

Emily, a 17-year-old, decided to treat her best friend, Taylor, to a movie to celebrate finishing their finals. They were running late and didn't want to miss the show, so Emily sped down the highway.

She lost control going around a notorious turn and crashed into a car with a family who were heading to a pizza dinner.

Sadly, Taylor passed away at the hospital months later due to serious complications. The family suffered loss of wages, emotional distress and lengthy hospitalizations – and one child had a permanent disability and needed ongoing physical therapy.

Emily's parents' standalone personal umbrella policy covered the exorbitant medical bills of all the victims.

3 REASONS WHY YOU NEED A PERSONAL UMBRELLA POLICY

1. A standalone personal umbrella policy adds a critical layer of protection for liability loss exposure
2. You don't need to be a millionaire to be sued like one. You could be liable for any injuries resulting from an at-fault, covered auto claim
3. All licensed drivers in the household or regular use operators must be listed on all policies, including youthful/inexperienced operators. Contact your carrier for requirements.
